Lots of bands free metronome play to a click on stage, particularly with backing tracks.

Who hears the click

The drummer almost always does, and many bands share it.

Getting comfortable

Rehearse every song with the click before the show, and decide each song's tempo, noting it on the set list.

Tips

Choose a cutting sound at a metronome sensible level. Use a one-bar count-in.

Daily practice with an online metronome makes the live click feel normal.
