How the Game Works: Core Mechanics

To really master the skies, a gamer needs to first understand the fundamental mechanics of the game. While specific features can differ slightly depending upon the particular platform hosting the game, the universal structure remains consistent.

The Flight Phase

As soon as a round starts, the airplane takes off the runway and starts its ascent. As it climbs up, a multiplier counter begins ticking upward-- starting at 1.00 x and continuing to rise. The longer the flight continues without event, the greater the multiplier goes.

The Descent and Hazards

The skies are hardly ever clear. Along the flight course, different aspects appear that can either boost the player's score or prematurely end the run. These can consist of favorable tailwinds, fuel increases, storm clouds, or abrupt altitude drops.

Cashing Out

The defining mechanic of Avia Masters is the aspect of threat versus reward. Gamers should decide the ideal minute to "cash out" or secure their progress. Wait too long, and a sudden threat might crash the plane, resulting in a lost round. Money out too early, and players might miss out on massive multipliers.

Game Phase Description Gamer Action Pre-Flight Setting stakes or preparing the airplane for launch. Location preliminary criteria or start the round. Climb The plane takes off; multipliers begin to climb up. Screen the flight course and view the multiplier grow. Mid-Flight Browsing threats, collecting bonus offers, and examining threat. Decide whether to hold on or secure the present rating. Resolution The flight ends either via an effective cash-out or a crash. Collect benefits and get ready for the next round.
