Frequently Asked Questions

Do you offer emergency HVAC services in Markham?

Yes. Markham Heating & Air Conditioning provides emergency HVAC services for unexpected heating and cooling failures, including air conditioner, furnace, and Heat Pump repairs. Fast service helps restore comfort during severe weather and minimizes the risk of further system damage.

How often should HVAC systems be serviced?

Most HVAC systems should receive professional maintenance every six months—once before summer and once before winter. A regular maintenance plan helps maximize performance, extend equipment life, reduce energy bills, and identify issues such as a dirty evaporator coil before they become major problems.

What brands of HVAC systems are supported?

Qualified technicians can service most major brands of furnaces, air conditioner units, Heat Pump systems, and Natural gas heating equipment. With professional training, they can diagnose and repair a wide range of residential and commercial HVAC systems.

Is furnace repair available year-round?

Yes. Furnace repair is available throughout the year for both Natural gas furnaces and other traditional heaters. Addressing heating issues early helps ensure your system is ready before colder weather arrives.

Frequently Asked Questions

Do you offer emergency HVAC services in Markham?

Yes. Markham Heating & Air Conditioning provides emergency heating and cooling services for unplanned heating and cooling failures, including air conditioner, furnace, and Heat Pump repairs. Fast service restores comfort during extreme temperatures while minimizing the risk of further system damage.

How often should HVAC systems be serviced?

Most HVAC systems should receive professional maintenance twice a year—once before summer and once before winter. A scheduled maintenance program helps improve performance, extend equipment life, lower energy costs, and detect issues such as a dirty evaporator coil before they become costly repairs.

Which HVAC brands do you service?

Skilled technicians can repair and maintain most major brands of furnaces, air conditioning units, Heat Pump systems, and Natural gas heating equipment. With professional experience, they can diagnose and repair a wide range of residential and commercial HVAC systems.

Is furnace repair available year-round?

Absolutely. Furnace repair is available throughout the year for both Natural gas furnaces and other traditional heating systems. Addressing heating issues early helps ensure your system is ready before winter begins.

Can I request a free estimate?

Many installation and replacement projects include free estimates so customers can review their options before work begins. Whether you're in Markham or nearby Richmond Hill, an estimate can help you compare equipment and choose the best solution for your property.

How much time does HVAC installation require?

Most standard furnace, air conditioning, or Heat Pump installations can be completed within a single day. More complex projects involving ductwork, air sealing, or multiple HVAC components may take additional time.

Are technicians certified in Ontario?

Absolutely. Qualified HVAC professionals performing regulated work in Ontario should hold the appropriate certifications and licenses for the services they provide. Their certified expertise helps ensure safe installation, maintenance, and repairs, including verifying components such as the furnace Shutoff switch and other safety controls.

Can you improve the energy efficiency of my HVAC system?

Certainly. Improving energy efficiency may include scheduled servicing, air sealing, upgrading to a high-efficiency Heat Pump, replacing an aging cooling system, or optimizing your existing HVAC equipment. These improvements can reduce utility costs, enhance comfort, and help your system operate at peak performance throughout the year.
