What is Mines Gambling?

At its core, Mines is a "provably fair" game. Unlike standard slots that count on intricate random number generators (RNGs) hidden behind proprietary software application, Mines video games are designed to be transparent. Gamers exist with a grid (generally 5x5) filled with hidden tiles. Behind these tiles lie 2 kinds of signs: gems (diamonds/stars) and mines (bombs).

The objective is basic: click tiles to reveal gems. Each gem reveals a multiplier that increases your preliminary bet. However, if you click a mine, the round ends, and you lose your stake. The tension depends on the "Cash Out" mechanic-- players can stop at any time to protect their existing winnings, or they can press their luck to expose more gems for a greater payout.

The Mechanics of Risk vs. Reward

The appeal of the Mines game depends on its customizability. Many platforms permit players to change the trouble level by choosing the number of mines are hidden on the grid.

Number of Mines	Danger Level	Possible Multiplier Range
1	Very Low	1.01 x-- 1.20 x
3	Low/Medium	1.10 x-- 2.50 x
5	Medium	1.25 x-- 5.00 x
10	High	2.50 x-- 25.00 x
20	Extreme	15.00 x-- 500.00 x

Note: Multipliers vary based on the specific casino supplier and the number of tiles currently opened.

Typical Play Styles:

- The Conservative Sniper: Plays with 1-- 2 mines and go for little, constant gains.
- The Risk-Taker: Plays with 10+ mines, wishing to hit a "lucky" streak of 3-4 tiles to protect an enormous payout.
