How to Prepare for a Venue Site Visit

Research the venue online. Look at photos, read reviews, and check their website for information about capacity, amenities, and pricing. Some questions to consider: What is the capacity of the venue? What is included in the rental fee? Are there any restrictions on décor, catering, or entertainment? Is there parking available? Is the venue accessible for guests with disabilities? Bring a notebook, a pen, and your phone or camera to take photos and videos. You'll want to document your visit so you can compare venues later. Kollysphere's event specialists can help you prepare for a venue site visit.

During the Site Visit: What to Look For

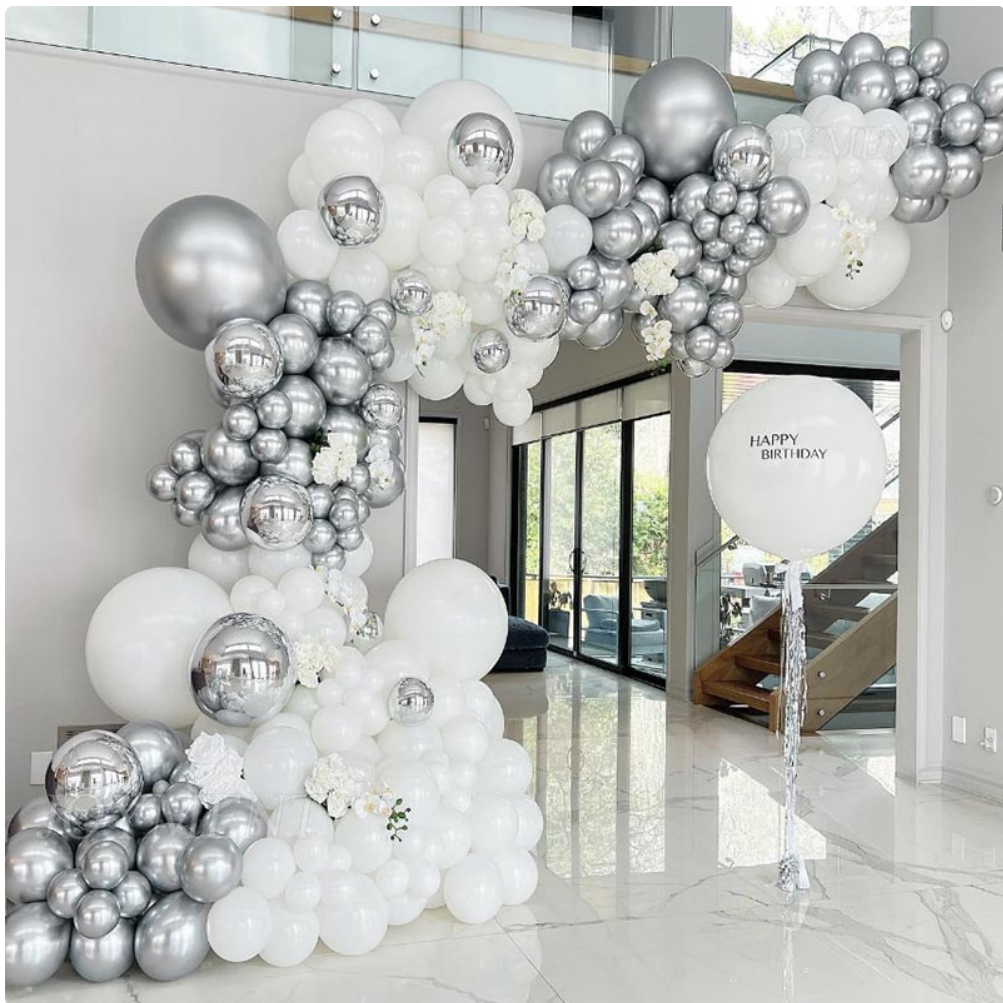

During the site visit, you'll want to assess the venue from every angle. Don't just look at the main event space; explore the entire property, including the entrance, the restrooms, the kitchen, and any outdoor areas. Check the flooring. Is it suitable for dancing? Is it safe for guests in heels? Check the accessibility. Is the venue accessible for guests with mobility challenges? Are there ramps and elevators? A thorough site visit will give you the confidence to make an informed decision. Kollysphere's event specialists can accompany you on a venue site visit and provide expert guidance.

The Most Important Questions to Ask

What is included in the rental fee? Tables, chairs, linens, cutlery, glassware? Is there parking? Is it complimentary? Is there valet service? What is the backup plan for bad weather? Don't be afraid to negotiate. Some venues are willing to waive fees or include extras to secure your booking. Kollysphere's experts can negotiate with venues on your behalf to get the best possible terms.

Comparing Venues and Choosing the Best One

After your site visit, take some time to evaluate the venue and compare it with other options. Don't make a hasty decision. This is a significant investment, and you want to get it right. Consider the ambiance. Does the venue have the right atmosphere for your party? Will it require a lot of decoration to transform it? Inform the venue of any special requirements or requests. Kollysphere's experts can help you negotiate the best possible deal with your chosen venue.
